

Further information

Tapeworm treatment

Only dogs need to be treated for tapeworm* before entering Jersey. This treatment must be carried out by a vet and not by you. The vet should check the microchip first before carrying out the treatment and then complete the passport. Your pet must be treated not less than 24 hours and not more than 120 hours (5 days) before the scheduled arrival time into Jersey.

* Dogs travelling direct from Ireland, Finland or Malta to Jersey will not be required to have the tapeworm treatment.

Ticks and other diseases

Tick treatment for pets entering Jersey will not be required but all pet owners travelling abroad with their pets should discuss disease prevention with their vet and the possible need for pets to be treated for ticks prior to departure to provide optimal protection, as part of good animal health practice.

Travelling abroad with your pet

The rules for pets travelling from Jersey to other countries will not change. Jersey pet owners wishing to take their pets abroad should contact the Department of the Environment for details of the export certification requirements for the destination country.

Bringing pets into Jersey after 1 January 2012

From 1 January, the rules for bringing your pet dog, cat or ferret into Jersey have changed.

For more information see: www.gov.je/PetTravel

Don't delay – find out the rules in plenty of time before you travel.

If you wish to return to Jersey with your pet after a trip abroad, or intend to bring your pet into Jersey for the first time, you need to be aware of the Jersey pet entry rules.

You are responsible for ensuring your pet meets all the rules for entering Jersey.

Make sure you have had the procedures carried out in the correct order and your pet's documentation is correctly completed. If you do not, your pet will be refused entry.

Rules depend on which country you are travelling into Jersey from:

- EU member states – see Part A overleaf.
- Approved non-EU countries – listed overleaf and on www.gov.je/PetTravel for latest details – see Part A.
- Non-approved countries (not in EU or not listed overleaf) – see Part B.

Is your pet prepared?

PART A: Entry to Jersey from EU Member States and approved non-EU countries.

For your pet to enter Jersey from these countries, you must answer 'yes' to the following questions:

- Is your pet microchipped? Y/N
- Is your pet currently vaccinated against rabies? Y/N
- Was your pet vaccinated after it was microchipped? Y/N
- Have you got an EU Pet Passport* or Official Veterinary Health Certificate from your vet certifying the microchip and vaccination? Y/N
- Have 21 days passed since it was vaccinated? Y/N
- Has your dog been treated for tapeworm 1-5 days before scheduled arrival? Y/N
- Are you travelling into Jersey with your pet on an approved carrier? Y/N

PART B: Entry to Jersey from non-approved countries.

For your pet to enter Jersey from these countries, you must answer 'yes' to the following steps:

- Is your pet microchipped and is it currently vaccinated against rabies? Y/N
- Was your pet vaccinated after being microchipped? Y/N
- Was a blood sample for a blood test taken at least 30 days after your pet was vaccinated? Y/N
- Has your pet passed the blood test? (Your vet will tell you.) Y/N
- Have you got an EU Pet Passport* or Veterinary Health Certificate from your vet certifying the microchip, vaccination and blood test result? Y/N
- Have three months passed since the date the blood sample was taken? Y/N
- Has your dog been treated for tapeworm 1-5 days before scheduled arrival? Y/N
- Are you travelling into Jersey with your pet on an approved carrier? Y/N

* Please note: If your pet was successfully blood tested and issued with an EU pet passport before it left Jersey or another EU country to go to a non-approved country, the three-month waiting period before re-entering Jersey will not apply (but all other rules will still apply).

 Official Veterinary Health Certificates are issued by non-EU countries only.
